

Living, Breathing God

Background

Monica and I were attending a service at In:Courage in Twerton, Bath. During the time of worship, the following words went through my mind.

Our God is a living, breathing god!

He has been deeply inhaling, drawing His people close into His presence. Now He is about to exhale, sending His breath powerfully into the world. He wants His people to ride upon that breath, reaching out to all they meet.

It's time to put up our sails!
