

Piercing Light

Background

I'm not sure when this was, but probably towards the end of 2010 or early 2011. I was at the Leaders Hub meeting in Twerton, Bath. I don't remember the circumstances other than that the following words came to me.

There is a light that pierces deep into the hearts of men. There is no corner that is hidden. For those that love me there is no fear for the light will banish all evil, for evil loves to be hidden and cannot coexist with my light. Embrace my light for it brings freedom and peace.

Pete Bennett
2010/2011?