

Pour Out A Fresh Anointing

Background

I was attending a “Day of Refreshing” at Lox Lane Christian Encounter Centre. During the time of worship, I received the following prayer/poem. As Clive Jackson and others shared thoughts etc. it became apparent that it was right for the event as well as for a wider audience.

Pour Out A Fresh Anointing

Anoint my eyes so I may see as you see,
Seeing need wherever it may be,
Seeing joy where you rejoice
And beauty as you see it.

Anoint my ears that I may truly listen
So I can hear cries of desperation,
The stories of your power
And songs of love to your Son.

Anoint my feet to go wherever you lead,
Ready to do your will wherever I may be,
Touching lives in your name and
Lifting your name on high.

Anoint my hands to grasp your truth.
Bearing others up as they fall,
Giving out your power and
Transforming lives with your love.

Anoint my heart that it may be filled
With your love, grace and power
Revealing the Spirit of the Living God
To a world that's floundering without you.
